Catholic University School is a private, Catholic boy's school. Fr. Colin, the founder of the Society of Mary, described the work of education as a formation of heart, mind, character and virtue. The philosophy of the school addresses the challenge of forming our pupils into gentlemen who display courtesy and sensitivity to all and who can act with integrity and a sense of responsibility.

As educators, we in CUS recognize our responsibility to develop the full potential of the boys, something that will be different for each and every one of them and to foster excellence in everything we do and everything we ask of the boys.

In this regard we are also conscious that the school is more than an academic institution. CUS as a school strives to evoke in our students a gratitude for what they have received that will in turn impel them to be generous towards those in society who have been less fortunate. Our aim is to educate them to recognize and accept their responsibility in playing their part to create a more just and Christian society.
